Clever, Sweet Novella Collection Hits the SpotBy Laura VThis fun, sweet novella collection brings together some of the best names in historical romance. With a light heart and a gentle hand these four authors manage to put together four short stories that satisfy lovers of the genre in the mood for quick but clever reads.In Karen Witemeyer's The Husband Maneuver, ranch foreman Daniel Barret has kept aloof from the bosses daughter for years. But when he gets ready to leave to start his own place, Marietta Hawkins decides it's time to take matters into her own hands.Regina Jennings' Her Dearly Unintended tells the story of Katie Ellen Watson, left alone while her parents head to town. When the bride washes out, her old nemisis Josiah Huckabee shows up. But he's just in time to thwart the strange man lurking around the homestead. Will pretending to be newlyweds save the erstwhile couple from danger?The Runaway Bride by Mary Connealy re-introduces Big John Conroy, a figure from several earlier books. The Texas Ranger has been taxed by friends to help save young Carrie Halsey from a dangerous man. Along the way he becomes smitten, but can he leave the life he's known to settle down?In Engaging the Competition, Melissa Jagears tells the story of a couple kept apart through the years by fierce competitive natures and misunderstandings. But when an accident throws the two together, will they find they have more in common than they thought?Each of these authors is talented in her own right, but together the compilation hits just the right notes. Some stories are stronger than others, but all are worth the read.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. This book contains four novellas from four of my favorite authors, Karen WitemeyerBy Debbie ClatterbuckJust finished "With this Ring? A Novella Collection of Proposals Gone Awry". This book contains four novellas from four of my favorite authors, Karen Witemeyer, Mary Connealy, Regina Jennings, and Melissa Jagears. I must say I loved them all. They made me laugh, they made me cry tears of happiness and they had me intrigued from the beginning to end of each one.The Husband Maneuver by Karen Witemeyer is about Daniel "Dead-Eye Dan" Barrett from another book of Karen's and I am so happy to see his relationship to Marietta Hawkins take shape. Daniel doesn't like being referred to as Dead-Eye Dan from the dime store novels from back when he was a bounty hunter. Marietta can't get enough of the books. Daniel wants to show Marietta he is no longer the bounty hunter in the novels, but a promise to his boss keeps him from doing that. The antics that ensue and Marietta tries to get Daniel to notice her are comical and heartwarming. I loved getting to read their story. Her Dearly Unintended by Regina Jennings: Josiah Huckabee has a thing for Katie Ellen Watson and during a terrible storm he goes to her home in the woods to check on her knowing her parents aren't at home to protect her. He finds her trying to get a stray cow and calf back across a flooded river and insists on helping out. Funny goings on there. Then he is trapped there when the bridge washes away. Katie Ellen isn't too happy about Josiah being there. He has been a thorn in her side since they were little. When a stranger comes trespassing Josiah comes up with a plan quick and without thinking of the consequences just trying to get the stranger to leave. This is also a great read and I encourage everyone to read it. Runaway Bride by Mary Connealy is a continuation of one of Mary's other books with Big John Conroy, Texas Ranger, hired to help Carrie Halsey escape a dangerous man intent on marrying her. The thing is, Carrie doesn't know Big John is there to help her. When they finally get together, with an unexpected kid brother in tow, sparks fly. Big John promises to keep Carrie and her brother safe and they get closer on the trail to Texas. The closer Carrie and John get, the more promises he wants to make. Fast paste and fun to read. Enjoy! Engaging the Competition by Melissa Jagears will show some people a look into one of the characters in "A Heart Most Certain", Melissa's most recent release in the form of one Charlotte "Charlie" Gray. This is her and Harrison's story and it's a hoot. When Harrison's glasses are accidentally broken, Charlie agrees to help him with his teaching in the high school in town until his new glasses arrive. The results are comical and endearing, as well as a little frustrating at times. But like the rest, it is a must read. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. With This Ring? By Pam K. This is an absolutely delightful collection of novellas by Karen Witemeyer, Regina Jennings, Mary Connealy, and Melissa Jagears. They are all some of my favorite authors. All of these novellas have connections to novels the authors have written. It was such fun to read the "Dead Eyed Dan" dime novel story at the beginning of each chapter of "The Husband Maneuver," Karen Witemeyer's follow up novella to "A Worthy Pursuit." Regina Jennings' "Her Dearly Unintended" brought us a story focused on Josiah Huckabee, who we met in her novels "A Most Inconvenient Marriage" and "At Love's Bidding." In "Runaway Bride" by Mary Connealy, we are reacquainted with Big John Conroy, plus the other Regulators, Luke, Dare, Vince, and Jonas, plus their wives from the Trouble in Texas series. As a special treat, we even meet up briefly with the Kincaid brothers and their wives from The Kincaid Brides series. To wrap up the book, we have Melissa Jagears' novella "Engaging the Competition," which is a prequel to her novel, "A Heart Most Certain." If you enjoy historical romance, you won't want to miss this collection, especially if you've read other works by these authors.

Humorous Historical Romance Novella Collection Offers Love and Laughs Four top historical romance novelists team up in this new collection to offer stories of love and romance with a twist of humor. In Karen Witemeyer's "The Husband Maneuver," Marietta Hawkins decides to grab the reins when the ranch foreman she loves seems to be leaving forever. Regina Jennings offers "Her Dearly Unintended," where friends stranded by a rising river pretend to be newlyweds when a dangerous stranger arrives. Mary Connealy's "Runaway Bride" finds a Texas ranger getting more than he expected when he rescues a young woman fleeing a dangerous arranged marriage. And Melissa Jagears' "Engaging the Competition" finds a young woman forced to assist the man she's sparred with for so long after an accident leaves him helpless. Each tale is a fun blend of history and romance that will delight readers.

From the Back Cover Sometimes Love is Found in the Most Unexpected Places! Love isn't always a fairy tale, and it doesn't always go as planned. Sometimes the best stories, though, are the ones that are the most unexpected. Join Karen Witemeyer, Mary Connealy, Regina Jennings, and Melissa Jagears for novellas that celebrate the power of love to triumph . . . even when circumstances go awry! The Husband Maneuver When ranch foreman Daniel Barrett seems ready to leave her life forever, Marietta Hawkins decides to grab the reins on their relationship. But to have any hope of maneuvering him into a proposal, she has to act fast or risk losing him completely. Her Dearly Unintended Josiah Huckabee just wanted to make sure Katie Ellen Watson was safe, but when the only bridge to her farm is washed out, the two find themselves alone. Alone, that is, until a menacing stranger appears. Maybe by pretending to be newlyweds, they'll save their reputations--but can pretending to be in love turn into the real thing? Runaway Bride Hired to help Carrie Halsey escape from a dangerous man intent on making her his wife, Big John Conroy never expected the job to interrupt his solitary Texas Ranger life. But now that he's promised to keep Carrie safe, he discovers he may just want to make a few more promises. Engaging the Competition Harrison Gray and tomboy Charlotte Andrews have been rivals for years. With Charlotte intended for someone else, it seems they'll never settle their differences until an accident changes things completely. When Charlotte breaks Harrison's glasses--without which he's nearly blind--she must help with his teaching position, and working together forces these former adversaries to reconsider everything.
